

I have been a paying subscriber to XM satellite since October 2003. XM offers choice that traditional AM and FM radio does not offer. The quality of the broadcasts is unsurpassed. The variety - I have my choice of over 100 stations, and can listen to the same station without interruption from coast to coast. This is not available on traditional radio. With limited commercial interruption, XM is nearly radio nirvana. The only thing missing was local weather and traffic. XM radio recently began offering those services. Now I have the complete package, and have never been more satisfied. This is America, and I have choice. The NAB does not have the right or responsibility to dictate to me or other free thinking adult Americans. I am insulted by the NAB's attempts to force regulations on satellite radio. Do not remove my choice as a free thinking, consenting adult. I respectfully urge the FCC commissioners to reject the NAB petition 04-160, and allow myself and other Americans to continue our freedom choice and freedom of radio programming.
